The Finances

From the New York Hernid.

We owe a national debt of $2,500,000,000, main y contracted in putting down the sixe holds a richellion. In other words. That richellion coat the United States four billions of doil lais, of which they have raised by taxation and past-one of the billions to be paid hereafter. And meaning, until we can considerably reduce it, we must pay one hundred and twenty live millions are assumed in the billions.

December, 1881; we be to now near the close of the We at 78 th per ont, but now no part of our debt draws in he had an per cent. This is too much. We ough to be able to reduce it decidedly. Our "Fire I wentles," were a made redeemable after the years on purpose that we might be able to red in them with money discrementally to the able to red in the might money there also be do a simple to case of the fear that twe shall try to cheat one or more by paying them in breast lender," we have promote coin.—
After Grant's election, we shall surely be able to borrow at tower rates. And, it we intufully apply the money thus said to discharging the principal of our Debt, we shall soon pay it off without additional taxtit of Surrait—whom the Papal army was not strong enough to keep, nor Eurypt dark enough to hide; whom United States Ministers bused down, and a United States Ministers bused down, and a United States was vessel brought house—finds himself saler in Washington than on the Nile.—He is a targe in the affects of the city is which he plotted the smeanination of Abraham Lincoln, and the authorities have decided to awhit the country of the next Grand Jury as to whether he shall be arrested again.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

Destructive Power of Salt.—A correspondent writes from the vicinity of Baltimore, Md:
"We have lakely been enjoying loc crean at rather a dear price. A few weeks since the contents of a bucks of melted loc and salt were careleasly thrown out, and got dammed up about a fine grape vine and some healthy boy vices, they were quickly killed, as well as a respherry bush that was also flooded.

A few days aince the same mixture was ignorized yempted into the buckst which is kept bandy for chickes acreps. When the meal, &c., was put in to make up their breakfast, all was mixed up and given to the chickens. This error cost us dity chickeus, ranging from little bobials to old laying bena. In mentioning this calculity to an acquaintance, he stated that a short time since a quantity of salt was thrown over a field for sheep, which, being discovered by the chickens of the adjoining village, they flocked to it and regaled themselves. The nonsequence was a complete cleaning out of the feathery stock.—
Of all those stateked at our house but one recovered, though nearly a dozen lought for life from one to two days.

Annals That Chew The Co.—Ruminating animals gather their food rapidly, give it a few cuts with the rect hand swallow it. It goes to the food thus stowed away in his stomeo, raising it can by end. When a portion is completely masticated, it passes to another receptacle, and toe process of digestion goes on. Thus an ox, if left to himself, will raise and masticate all his fond the stowed away in his stomach. If he is pushed and worked hard, and does not have time to machetic, he falls off in flesh, his health to too and divestion incomplete.
